

Mrs Jacqueline Healing

Jackie Healing is a Food scientist with over 40 year's experience directing and leading food safety programmes for food retailers globally. She recently led the consulting and advisory services for NSF, a leading Testing Inspection and certification body. Jackie currently works as an independent Food Safety Consultant, is a fellow of the Institute of Food Science and Technology (IFST) and a board member of the Society of Food Hygiene and Technology (SOFHT).

Register of Interests

An up-to-date record of member interests can be found on the register of interests page